SYMPOSIUM

EASTERN IDAHO WATER SUPPLY ALTERNATIVES

FOR MUNICIPAL, SUBDIVISION, COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL USES

Water is critically important to the sustainment and growth of municipalities, subdivisions, commercial operations and industrial plants. Learn about how to provide water for these uses within the Eastern Snake Plain Aquifer of Eastern Idaho.

Those who should consider attending: City and County Planners, Public Works and Elected Officials, Subdivision Developers, Irrigation Entity Managers and Board Members, Water Resource Professionals, Regional and State Economic Development Staff and Officials, Government Agency Staff and Leadership, and Interested Public.

This half-day symposium will be held on Wednesday, February 21, 2018 at the Shilo Inn, 780 Lindsay Blvd, Idaho Falls. The cost is $25 for early-bird registration prior to February 10th and $40 thereafter.
